Juice in a jiffy

Make room on your worktop this summer for the Dualit Juice Extractor. Not only does it whizz through fruit and veg with ease, its micro-mesh filters catch any bits. That wasn't clever enough, the juicer's speed and torque adjust to the type of fruit being juiced. A 2.2-litre pulp container and a 1.6-litre jug ensure you can make enough juice for everyone. It costs around £99.95

PURPLE DELIGHT
Add a touch of understated elegance to your table with Denby's glossy new crockery. The Amethyst range's rich plum tones are the perfect accompaniment to any dinner party and can be mixed with pieces from the Amethyst Stone range, shown. Made from clay, it's safe for use in the dishwasher, microwave, oven and freezer, with prices starting from £7.50 for a saucer

MINIMAL MAGIC
With its on-trend curves and textured cabinetry, Burbidge's Alto Clay featuring Wave kitchen is visually stunning. A mix of matt colours and random pattern, the range includes chunky end panels, glazed doors and sleek, U-shaped handles. Prices start at £10,000

THREE OF THE BEST... salad bowls

Summer is just around the corner and alfresco dining demands a capacious new salad bowl. Here's our pick:

The Bamboo salad bowl in Blue, £8 from John Lewis, is durable, made from sustainable materials and has a notch at the side for your salad servers

This handmade Berry patterned porcelain bowl by Alice Garland at Swanky Maison, £50, makes a beautiful centrepiece for elegant dining

With integral salad servers that slot into the sides, the Joseph Joseph Hands On melamine salad bowl comes in green, shown, or white, £30
