Any fashionista worth their Balenciaga will tell you the easiest way to get a bargain is to join an online private members store. And now there's an interiors equivalent. achica.com offers exclusive flash sales on brands like Riedel, Jamie Oliver and Yves Delorme (shown), plus previews, design tips and advice on seasonal trends. And membership is free. What's not to like?

Mystery machine

Get dinner party guests guessing with Joseph Joseph's new gadget, the Y Grinder. Is it a bird? Is it a plane? No, it's a very stylish salt and pepper grinder. Super cool. £30 (josephjoseph.com)

NESTING INSTINCT

Love clean-lined, low-level sofas, but also hanker after a soft, plump landing? Then Italian company Seven Salotti's latest creation is for you. This chic sofa, which comes in various sizes, has divine goose-down cushions just waiting to cosset you. It's not called Nest for nothing. From £7,400 (chaplins.co.uk)

Pick of the month

SHANNON MORTON,
CREATIVE DIRECTOR, LOVES...

Hans J Wegner's Wishbone chair, for its 'beautiful lines'. The iconic seat is 60 this year, and to celebrate, Carl Hansen & Son is releasing new colours, including four shades of blue. £540 each (thelollipopshoppe.co.uk)

Vanity fair

The ceramic Axis basin has all the hallmarks of Italian design (in this case from Antonio Citterio and Sergio Brioschi) – elegant, sleek and sculptural. It's not just a pretty face, though, with plenty of space for lotions and potions, and a rail to hang towels. £589 (astonmatthews.co.uk)
